

Revision strategy:

Mind maps

Mind mapping....

Mind maps are a great way of visually recalling the key features of topics and, with the right background revision and reading, will help you to recall a great deal of information from your long-term memory.

Like all things though, you need to continually recall this, by looking at it again and again.

Repetition, Repetition, Repetition!!

Mind maps are great for planning and recalling anything, including exam prep!

